Members of the International Festival Committee and representatives of ethnic organizations in Granite City gather to raise the flags of some of the nations of origin for Granite City's founding inhabitants in the triangle park downtown.

Flags salute cultural heritage

Granite City is truly a melting pot of the world. In the early 1900s, the industrial nature of the community, and the many good-paying jobs that were available, attracted thousands of immigrants to the city. Many of the descendants of these early residents continue to honor the traditions of their ancestors today. Residents are proud of their cultural heritage, whether they are of South or Central American,

European or Asian descent. In recognition of the city's rich and diverse cultural heritage, city leaders have purchased and now display the flags of 16 foreign nations in a downtown park. The flags — and new poles — have been erected in Civic Park downtown, located between Niedringhaus Avenue, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. They were placed on display for the first time last week — just in time for the city's first-ever International Festival, which concludes today, Sunday, in the downtown area. The International Festival features a wide variety of food and beverages and live entertainment. The flags were purchased by the city utilizing tax increment finance funds.

County crime rate climbs

By Scott Cousins

While statewide statistics showed a slight drop in the number of crimes committed in 1995, local law enforcement agencies reported generally higher rates.

"Crime in Illinois," the annual report put out by the Illinois State Police, showed the overall crime rate in Madison County increased 4.9 percent from 1994 to 1995.

Countywide, the report showed a total of 13,113 serious crimes — murder, criminal sexual assault, robbery, aggravated assault/battery, burglary, motor vehicle theft and arson — a 4.1 percent increase over the 12,501 crimes reported in 1994.

The crime rate is measured in crimes per 100,000 people. The Madison County Sheriff's Department reported a crime rate of 3,065.5, an increase of 41.2 percent over the 1994 rate of 2,162.7 in unincorporated areas of the county.

The department reported increases in all crimes except murder, which fell from five to two, or a 60 percent drop. Other categories showed increases ranging from 10 percent to 346.2 percent: criminal sexual assault — up 56.2 percent, to 116 from 76; robbery — up 81.9 percent, to 29 from 16; aggravated assault/battery — up 346.2 percent, to 232 from 52; burglary — up 10 percent, to 603 from 548; theft — up 45.4 percent, to 1,114 from 766; motor vehicle theft — up 16.5 percent, to 148 from 127; and arson — up 46.2 percent, to 19 from 13.

State rate shows drop

Illinois State Police officials say tougher laws, better enforcement — especially of drug laws — and more prison space has led to a slight decrease in the number of crimes reported in the state in 1995.

Those decreases continue a general downward trend in three of the past four years, said Illinois State Police Director Terrance W. Gainer.

Both the number of reports of serious crime and the total crime rate fell by 1 percent in 1995.

The annual "Crime in Illinois" report, which details statistics from 1,010 law enforcement agencies throughout the state, was released today.

Sheriff Bob Churchich said more awareness and tougher action against domestic battery caused most of the increase.

"There's so much publicity (since the O.J. Simpson trial), people are reporting it more," he said.

Bowles pushes legislation

Rain to spur action?

SPRINGFIELD — Supporters of the controversial storm water legislation for Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties hope last week's flooding will spur some action.

"If this latest flooding doesn't open some eyes, nothing will," said Sen. Evelyn Bowles, D-Edwardsville, who recently introduced legislation advocated by the Metro East Regional Storm Water Committee, which is composed of officials from the three counties.

Noting that Gov. Jim Edgar had declared the counties state disaster areas as a result of the bad weather, Bowles said she wished opponents could "get down there and see what happened."

The legislation was stripped to vehicle bills in both the House and Senate while attempts to negotiate a compromise continue. Major statewide associations like the Illinois Farm Bureau, Illinois Realtors Association and Illinois Municipal League objected to several details in the legislation. The original legislation would have allowed county boards to put a

The fees would be used for catch basins and other flood-control measures in the counties.

The regional stormwater committee met on Friday in Collinsville but little progress resulted. City, village and township officials spent most of the meeting sharing stories of flood damage caused by last week's heavy storms.

"We're basically at a standstill on this," said Rick Casey, chairman of the stormwater committee and also a

Madison OKs loan for repairs

The Madison City Council has approved borrowing up to $300,000 from Omni Bank in Pontoon Beach to finance the renovation of a new city hall at 615 Madison Avenue.

The council approved the purchase of the former Lahey-Sedlack funeral home in December for $117,000, which was paid in cash.

The total cost of purchasing and renovating the new city hall is expected to be about $400,000.

According to an ordinance approved at a special meeting Wednesday evening, the city will pay $1,666.67 plus interest per month for the loan.

The ordinance was approved by a 7-1 vote. Alderman Norris Horton, a critic of the plan to

Nelson Hagnauer
Board chairman

Raise surprises Hagnauer

Proposed 29 percent hike 'quite a jump,' he says

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City says a proposed 29 percent pay increase for his office is "quite a jump."

Hagnauer said he was surprised when he learned that two County Board committees recommended that the pay of the board chairman increase Dec. 1 to $60,000, a $13,442 increase. He declined to take a position on the proposal.

"I don't know that I should do that. It's the position, not me, I just happen to have it," said Hagnauer, 68, who has been on the board for 41 years and chairman since 1972.

Hagnauer, who has been ill and away from his office since February, said he was briefed in advance on the proposal to boost the pay for the auditor, circuit clerk, coroner and recorder of deeds, who are elected this November.

Hagnauer said he suggested that smaller increases be proposed but declined to elaborate on his recommendations. "I do understand what the officeholders are asking," he said. "We've had some department heads and other people going over them (in pay)."

Hagnauer had hoped to be back at work this week but said his doctor had advised him to wait a little longer. He said he keeps in close contact with administrators and elected officials.

Hagnauer said he remains a candidate for re-election from his Granite City district and will seek the chairmanship again if elected.

He added that he doubts he would remain on the board if he ever decided to step down as chairman.

Hungary Hollow remembered

Southwest city neighborhood was center of activity

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

The Lincoln Place neighborhood on the southwest end of Granite City has always been known for its ethnic flavor.

Today, the area is a melting pot with an international flavor. But in the early 1900s, the area was known as "Hungary Hollow" because of its large population of Hungarian immigrants.

The community was a close-knit group, mostly working at local steel foundries.

"They butchered their own hogs, made their own wine and brewed and bottled their own beer during the Depression," recalls Alex Toth. "My father used to buy 100 boxes of grapes and press them to make his own wine. He used the big quart bottles for beer. He said the smaller bottles were too much work."

Residents shared what little they had with other members of the community, said John Petish Jr.

"We shared Hungarian newspapers. The paper could be a week old, but we'd pass it on," Petish said.

Similarly, residents could go to the Christ Bake Shop and cook their family dinner on the big open hearth — fired by railroad ties — for 10 cents.

"No one wanted to fire up their oven at home in the summer, so everyone cooked their roasts or whatever at the bakery," Petish said.

Community dances were well attended. Children would grab novelty items, like fans or dolls, hanging from clotheslines, and then be "fined" for them — a nickel or a dime — by a judge.

The Mexican Honorary Commission's building at 1801 Spruce Street was once a center of activity in the area formerly known as "Hungary Hollow."

In fact, the building still carries the sign, "Magyar Haz," meaning "Hungarian Home."

"The Hungarian Home Association operated the building," Toth recalls.

"Lodges would meet there. They had a club room with a bar. They had summer school for kids, recitals and plays. And when veterans returned from the war, they could rent the hall for $6 for their wedding reception — the cost to clean up the place."

Various lodges were established and met at the home. Lodges sold insurance to members during the depression, Toth said.

And they (the Hungarian Home Association) sponsored the Verhovay baseball team, which was one of the best around."

He said the baseball team drew talent from all of the Tri-Cities area.

"It was an opportunity to travel during the Depression. They brought together all the best baseball players from the Tri-Cities," Toth said.

The Lincoln Place Community Center, now owned and operated by the Granite City Park District, was another landmark in Hungary Hollow. It was built by Clarence Howard, president of the Commonwealth Steel Co., later known as General Steel Castings Corp.

Many children attended summer classes at the community center — 60 or more at a time. Kindergarten, Sunday school and Bible school classes were offered. There were classes in woodworking, dress making, basket weaving, quilt making and other crafts, as well as in the Hungarian language. At the end of the summer, there was a recital and display of the crafts.

Sophia Prather, the teacher, was a strict disciplinarian, Toth said.

"No one got out of line. At home, their parents taught them respect and obedience. At school, Mrs. Prather was the same as the parents," Toth said.

One of the many attractions of the community center was its cold-running water showers.

"You'd get about five minutes, then she (Prather) would knock on the door and another group of five or six would go in," Petish said.

When Prather died, a wake was held in the community center gymnasium. Boy scouts conducted a 24-hour honor guard for the vigil.

The community center was also the home of several championship basketball teams. Andy Phillip, who went on to fame in professional basketball,

Salary hikes face opposition

Proposed pay raises for Madison County officials sailed through two County Board committees last Tuesday but may face rough seas when they come before the full board May 15.

"I think it's too much money," said board member Bill Aery of Godfrey, one of two Republicans on the 29-member board. "I will be very surprised if they get it."

Board member Jack Frandsen of Alhambra, a Democrat, said flatly that the raises will not be approved. He said he knows of 14 board members who oppose them and presumes some of those he has not talked to will also oppose them.

"I think they deserve a raise, but not like that," Frandsen said. "There will have to be a compromise or they'll get little or nothing."

The board's personnel and finance committees Tuesday endorsed raises for the county's next auditor, circuit clerk, coroner, recorder of deeds, board chairman and the 15 County Board members who will be elected in November.

One proposal would set the salaries of the auditor, circuit clerk, coroner and recorder of deeds at $62,000 for the fiscal year that begins Dec. 1 and provide for raises of 4 percent each of the following three fiscal years.

The first-year increases would be $15,439 for the coroner's office and $9,184 for the offices of auditor, circuit clerk and recorder. The officials are elected countywide.

The committees also endorsed a proposed salary of $60,000 for the board chairman, an increase of $13,442. Voters elect board members, who then elect a chairman.

A $1,000 salary boost to $9,500 is proposed for the board seats to be filled this year. It would bring pay for the 15 members to be elected in November to the same as that for the 14 elected in 1994 and is not expected to be controversial.

Board member Homer Henke of Moro, the board's other Republican, said he is more supportive of a pay increase for the board chairman than those proposed for the four elective offices.

"It's way more than I'm prepared to vote for. I'm sure there's some way to compromise."

In the joint committee meeting, State's Attorney William Haine spoke on behalf of the current officeholders, Auditor Fred Bathon, Circuit Clerk Matt Melucci, Coroner Dallas Burke and Recorder Dan Donohoo. All are Democrats facing opposition in re-election bids this year.

Haine said the salaries for those offices have not kept pace with increases for most of the highest-paid appointed county employees.

County Republican Party Chairman Edward Ragsdale said the pay proposals are a good argument for putting more Republicans in office.

"We've got kind of an old-boy situation at the courthouse where one party is in control to a large extent," Ragsdale said. "They tend to take care of each other."

Man is charged with stalking

A Pontoon Beach man has been arrested and charged with stalking his former girlfriend.

Troy Police Chief Robert Noonan said David M. McKee, 19, of 20 Tulip Avenue is accused of lurking around the home of his ex-girlfriend, a Troy resident.

The woman told police that McKee has been seen following her on at least two occasions and has sent her numerous messages threatening to kill her.

Warrants issued by the office of Madison County State's Attorney William Haine April 25 charge McKee with the crime of stalking.

McKee was arrested that afternoon and was held in the Madison County Jail on $30,000 bail until posting bond the next day.

"I think it's been going on for several months," said Noonan. He said neighbors and family members of the victim have alleged that they saw McKee prowling around her home.

Noonan declined to comment on the specifics of how the case developed, other than saying that the woman reported the incidents of alleged stalking to police.

McKinley deck repairs studied

Venice considering alternative to expensive replacement

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said the city is looking into a way to improve the decking on the western side of the McKinley Bridge.

At Tuesday's council meeting, he said removing and replacing the decking would cost an estimated $3 million.

However, one alternative could cost as little as $100,000.

"We've explored the possibility of being able to weld down the humps," he said, referring to steel plates on the bridge deck.

Other spots would be filled, and then the road would be covered with asphalt.

"At this point I think it's worth trying," he said.

He said if nothing is done there will be delays on that section of the bridge, and motorists could be lost.

"People will start leaving, and we may not get them back," Echols said.

The improvements are not part of the current $7.5 million renovation of the bridge, which should be completed later this year.

Echols said that work is right on schedule.

He said the city is also going to ask the state of Missouri for an abatement of some of the property taxes for the western side of the McKinley Bridge.

"Each year, the city pays approximately $65,000 in property taxes and penalties for the Missouri portion of the bridge.

"We kind of lagged a little bit because we were putting every nickel we could (into the bridge)," he said. "We need to get back with them."

In other business, the council approved seeking Madison County Community Development money for exterior repairs to the senior center and clean sewers.

"The first order of business was the Senior Citizens Center," Echols said. "I would say there is $50,000-60,000 work to be done."

A public hearing on the grant application was held last week.

The council also tabled discussion of a new trash collection fee ordinance.

Flood concerns aired

Sewer system is antiquated, Echols says

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Concerns by citizens about issues ranging from flooding to people occupying vacant houses dominated much of Tuesday's Venice City Council meeting.

Sonja McHenry complained about flooding on Douglas Street. She said that during previous flooding several thousand dollars in damage was done to her car, and something needed to be done. She also said that it appears that flooding problems have increased.

"Lately, it's been really bad," she said. "The water is up over an inch over the sidewalk."

Mayor Tyrone Echols said the city's sewer system is antiquated, and in the past several years the area has had two "100-year" floods.

"You won't ever have any plans to take care of an 8-10 inch rain," he said. "These are things God does; it's not man-made."

Charlyn Woods, who lives in the 1000 block of Market Street, complained about heavy trucks and buses.

"I was wondering if you could check into it, to see what it was doing to our streets and sewers," she said.

Aldermen said most of the problems on Market are caused by large buses.

Alderman Victor Valentine said the city should contact the Bi-State Development Agency to see if routes couldn't be changed or if smaller buses could be used in the area.

Earl Hogan of the 200 block of Kerr Street said someone has moved into a vacant house next to his.

He said the man was living in the house without utilities or an occupancy permit.

City officials said the matter would be looked into.

James Edwards of the 600 block of Broadway asked when a house on property he purchased next to his would be torn down.

The house was one of those scheduled for demolition using Madison County Community Development funds.

Echols asked if Edwards had signed the new consent form.

He also said there has been a change in the program. Before, the demolition would be done at no cost to the owner. Now, he said that if the county demolishes the house, it would put a lien on the property.

He said demolition would cost between $3,000-4,000.

"There wouldn't be any lots in town worth $3,000 to $4,000, so you could kiss it (the property) goodbye."

Edwards said he would look into demolishing the house himself.

There were also complaints about loiterers on Baucum and Douglas.

"I've instructed our patrolmen to tell them to get inside and get out of the street," Police Chief James E. Newsome said.

He also said officers would make arrests for drinking in public.

•Crime

He said increases in sex crimes also reflects increased public awareness and reporting to police.

The increase — especially in sex crimes involving children — is so great that Churchich said he had to assign a detective to those cases almost full time.

"It was almost a pleasure years ago when all we dealt with were armed robbers and thieves," he said.

Municipalities in the area showed much smaller increases — and decreases in some cases.

In Granite City, a 2.1 percent overall increase was reported, to 5,956.4 from 5,833.9 in 1994.

A total of 1,946 crimes were reported in the city.

Police reported one murder in both years.

Granite City reported increases in robbery — to 31 from 16; burglary — to 460 from 403; and motor vehicle theft — to 118 from 88.

There were decreases in criminal sexual assault — to 17 from 37; aggravated assault and battery — to 89 from 104; theft — to 1,216 from 1,240; and arson — to 16 from 17.

The city of Madison showed an increase of 11.3 percent, to 22,827.1 from 20,514, but Chief of Police Steve Skoklo said figures for aggravated assault and battery were over reported.

The Madison police reported a total of 977 crimes in six of the seven categories.

Madison showed increases in criminal sexual assaults — to seven from four; theft — to 416 from 399; and motor vehicle theft — to 73 from 50.

Police showed decreases in two categories: robbery — to 26 from 37; and burglary — to 137 from 200.

There were no murders reported in the city in either year. One arson case was reported in 1995, while none were reported in 1994.

In the aggravated assault/battery category, the state report showed an increase of 70.4 percent, to 317 from 186.

Skoklo said the actual figures were much lower — 32 in 1995 and 29 in 1994, for an increase of 10.3 percent.

He said his department accidentally sent figures for all battery and assault cases, not just the felonies.

Skoklo said most of the crime in Madison is property crimes, and most is drug related.

He pointed out that burglary showed a large drop — "That's due to the fact that we have more manpower," he said.

In Pontoon Beach, the crime rate rose 28.2 percent to 10,751.9 from 8,386.

A total of 459 crimes were reported.

No murders were reported. There were increases in criminal sexual assault — to seven from four; aggravated assault/battery — to 14 from five; burglary — to 100 from 69; theft — to 308 from 251. There were also five arson cases reported in 1995, and none in 1994.

Robbery to one from two; and motor vehicle theft decreased to 24 from 27.

Venice reported a 32 percent drop in the crime rate, to 3,999 from 5,880.

There were not reported murder or arson cases in 1995, while two murders and one arson were reported the previous year.

Other categories showing decreases were robbery — to three from six; burglary — to 38 from 74; and theft — to 50 from 101.

Categories showing increases were criminal sexual assaults — to four from one; aggravated assault/battery — to 43 from 30; and motor vehicle theft — to 15 from 10.

"Compared to other cities, it's a relatively safe place to live," said Venice Police Chief James E. Newsome.

He said the police department's priority is to deal with street corner drug dealers and public drinking.

Stages furnishings on auction block

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Local dance club aficionados will get a chance to bid on their own little piece of history when equipment and bar furnishings from Stages Nightclub in Madison is auctioned later this week.

The auction will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, May 9, at the nightclub, located next to Gateway International Raceway.

Bar furnishings will be auctioned at 10 a.m., sound and video equipment at noon, and other equipment — including a truck and tractor — at 1 p.m. Inspection of merchandise will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday.

The auction is being handled by Britton Auction Sales of St. Louis for the U.S. Attorney's office.

The property and business was seized from convicted racketeer Thomas Venezia, and the building was later bought by the owners of Gateway International Raceway.

The property will eventually become part of Gateway's new oval track.

The raceway is just starting construction on a $22 million expansion. The first phase is construction of a drag strip.

However, general manager Rod Wolter said recent wet weather has slowed the project.

He said recent rains made it difficult to excavate for the new drag strip.

"You can't do dirt work underwater," he said. "We just need some dry weather and then we can get this thing done."

Annual circus gets new address

By Dan Berger
Staff writer

The 1996 Moolah Shrine Parade and "Circus of Thrills" are moving to new venues this summer.

After 25 consecutive years at Busch Memorial Stadium, the 54th annual Moolah Shrine Circus will move to the Kiel Center for its six performances June 27 through 30.

On June 26, the Shrine Circus performers, clowns, bands and 19 floats will parade down Market Street from Busch Stadium past the Kiel Center, 14th and Market streets, before ending at St. Louis Union Station, 18th Street and Market.

The following evening the 1996 Moolah Shrine Circus will officially open as circus performers, Shrine units and dignitaries make a colorful grand entry into the Kiel Center.

Five rings of entertainment will feature acrobatic, daredevil and animal acts. Each night, audiences will experience laser-light-enhanced fireworks display that will be triggered by a child who is undergoing treatment at Shriners Hospital.

As in previous years, 100 percent of the proceeds from the Moolah Shrine Circus will benefit the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled and Burned Children.

"There is never a charge for any of the medical care or services received at Shriners Hospitals," said Stephen F. Pieper, 1996 circus chairman.

"The Moolah Shrine Circus is an excellent way to provide fun and entertainment while also helping kids to walk and lead normal lives."

Tickets for the Moolah Shrine Circus currently are on sale and can be purchased at the Kiel Center box office, 14th Street and Clark Avenue, or at the Moolah Shrine office at 12545 Pee Pee Road. Tickets also are available at all Ticket Now locations or by calling Dialtix at (314) 291-7600.

Reserved tickets are $18, $14 and $12. General admission tickets are $7.50.

There is a 7:30 p.m. performance June 27, 28 and 29, with matinee performances at 3:30 p.m. June 29 and 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. June 30.

Correction, clarification

The April 28 "Enjoy Illinois" special section contained two errors concerning upcoming events in Fairview Heights.

The Shrine Circus will be held May 31 to June 3 near St. Clair Square, in Fairview Heights — not in O'Fallon as stated in an article in the section.

In addition, the calendar of events incorrectly listed the Pan-Am Games in Fairview Heights on Aug. 1-11. The city actually is hosting the Pan American Baseball Championships, juvenile division, at that time.

Information on the free video-based parenting workshops discussed in the Wednesday Journal newspaper can be obtained by calling 1-314-534-5504. The article Wednesday did not include the area code, and some of our readers logically assumed that it was a 618 number.

2 arrested in incidents in Madison

Two Madison men were arrested in separate incidents early Wednesday.

At approximately 1 a.m., police stopped a car driven by Christopher Alphonzo Freeman, 26, of Oakview Homes after officers observed the vehicle running a stop sign in the 1800 block of Second Street.

A record check revealed Freeman was wanted for failing to appear on three outstanding charges: having a dog running loose and domestic battery in Madison, and operating an uninsured motor vehicle in St. Clair County.

He was released after posting $600 cash bond.

At about 4:18 a.m., police responded to a report of a domestic disturbance at Garasche Homes.

A record check revealed he was wanted on an outstanding St. Clair County warrant for operation of an uninsured motor vehicle.

When police attempted to arrest him, according to reports, Williams pulled away from officers and became aggressive.

He was charged with resisting arrest and disobeying a police officer.

Protestant Welfare benefit

Music and magic at Follies Revue

Music and magic will be among the many featured acts at Protestant Welfare's third annual Spring Follies Revue at 7 p.m. May 17th in the Granite City High School auditorium.

Tickets for the variety show are $6 in advance and $7 at the door for adults, and $3 for children 13 and under.

The program is a fund-raiser for Protestant Welfare, which operates a food pantry and provides assistance for needy individuals.

Among the acts scheduled to perform are Grant E. Wuellner, a magician and ventriloquist, and Angel Heart, a country/swing/rock band.

"Those with a God-given talent deserve to be recognized, encouraged and supported by the public and given the opportunity to demonstrate their gifts," said Guylla Stuart, event organizer. "So the Follies Revue serves two purposes, the other one being to help Protestant Welfare to help those in need."

Wuellner, of Alton, was fascinated with magic as a child. He has since taken the art to a higher level by reading books about showmanship and ways to make people laugh. His magic appeals to people of all ages and his fast-paced shows are filled with comedy. He is a member of the Society of American Musicians and Brotherhood of Magicians. He is also a member of the St. Louis Ventriloquists Club.

His show features a 2½-foot-tall puppet, Diggy the Dinosaur. Angel Heart is a six-piece band playing a variety of music including polkas, swing, country, new rock, classic rock, oldies, ballads and popular dance tunes. The band is popular at wedding receptions, picnics, other private parties and lounges. The band's lead vocalist, Cathy Jo Frailey of Glen Carbon, was Miss Collinsville in 1989 and runner-up to Miss Illinois in 1990. Guitarist Terry Kennedy, drummer Mike Mattea, and keyboard player Tom Wilkerson all reside in Collinsville and are former members of the band Horizon.

Jerry Cobetto of Edwardsville plays saxophones, guitar and pedal steel, and Joe Phillips of Belleville plays bass guitar and guitar.

Park district planning one-day trip to Okawville on May 28

A one-day trip will be sponsored by the Granite City Park District on Tuesday, May 28, to Okawville, Ill.

The cost of the trip is $40 per person and will include all the day's activities. Trip tickets go on sale at 9 a.m. Tuesday, May 7, at the Wilson Park ice rink. Park district residents will be given priority and nonresidents placed on a waiting list and notified of availability on May 14.

The group will arrive in the rural community of Okawville and be met by a local guide who will explain the town's German heritage, reflected in its homes and laws.

The guide will direct a tour of three museums.

Lunch will be a full meal at the Original Springs Motel in Okawville, famous for its mineral whirlpool baths and full-body Swedish massages as well as good food.

Following lunch, time will be saved for browsing the gift shops, after which the group will board the bus for O'Fallon.

In O'Fallon, a stop will be made at the home of retired Air Force Col. Jack Moelmann, who will give an organ concert. His program is given in his home, which is far from normal — everything is electronic, including the opening and closing of his drapes. He has 16 telephones and 23 television sets.

Call Sue Champion at her residence or at the Wilson Park office, 877-3059, for more information.

Magnet, generator are reported stolen

A thief who stole a 4,000-pound magnet from a scrap yard in Venice apparently decided he wanted the generator necessary to make it work.

Venice police are seeking information on the theft of the magnet and a generator.
On April 30, a worker at Iron & Steel Processing, located at 1310 Broadway, reported the magnet stolen from a crane. The magnet was valued at between $10,000 and $15,000, according to police.

The worker who reported it stolen said the last time someone had noticed it was two weeks before it was reported missing. On Thursday morning workers reported a generator on the back of the crane — necessary to run the magnet — had also been stolen.

The generator was valued at about $3,000. Police said there has been a number of thefts from the area in recent weeks. Anyone with information about the magnet is asked to call the Venice police at 877-2114.

Salon 53 holds meeting

The Madison County Salon 53 Eight and 40 held its chapeau party April 23 at the Innkeeper Restaurant in Hamel. Lunch was served to 33 partners.

The special guest was Jackie Rochat, departmental chapeau from Franklin Park. Accompanying her was Irene Parker, aide from Franklin Park.

Following lunch, a musical program of children's songs was given. The theme this year was "Raggedy Ann and Andy." Appropriate kids' songs and costumes were used. The chairwoman was Marjorie Rosenthal of New Douglas, who played keyboard. Bingo was enjoyed to complete the afternoon's festivities.

Representatives from neighboring salons were in attendance. Five were from St. Clair County, two from Fayette County, four from Marion County, one from Clinton County and one from Green-Caboun County.

DAR makes plans for Flag Day

Members of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in Glen Carbon at the home of Sandra Wilkinson for their April meeting.

After the hostess served a breakfast snack, Linda Mizell, regent, led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance. Arlene Pickard read the president general's message regarding goals to set for the coming year.

Emma Schoen presented a national defense topic which referred to problems in other countries that increase the number of persons trying to immigrate to America.

A meeting calendar was passed around so that people could sign up to be a hostess or to present a program during the upcoming year. Yearbooks will be started immediately after the May meeting.

Chapter members discussed the upcoming visit by the state regent to the chapter in November. The meeting time will be changed to fit her travel schedule. A luncheon will follow the business meeting. A room has been reserved at Ravanel's Restaurant for the meeting and luncheon.

Flag Day ceremonies will be held on June 14 at the Memorial Park, across from St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Mizell will lead those assembled in the Pledge of Allegiance. Jane Vansaler will hold the Drusilla Andrews flag-type banner amid those of other groups.

Schoen presented a program on the Code Talkers of World War II, which included much information that the average American may not know. The Code Talkers were of Indian descent and used their Indian language to keep the enemies unaware of what was being planned.

Items to be taken to the Marion Veterans' Hospital should be brought to the May meeting in the home of Judith Schatz.

Others present were Audrey Sperry, Judith Schatz and Barbara Williams.

Support groups have been in existence for many years. They can become a vital and positive influence in the lives of both patients and those who care about them. By providing information about their disease and how to live with it, support group members can create a better working partnership between patient and physician.

Memorial believes that support groups provide an opportunity for patients, along with their families and friends to discuss uncertainties and learn to place them in perspective. Better than any other technique, talking in a support group with people who share common problems, helps them understand that they are not alone.

The following is information about Memorial-sponsored support groups. For more information about these groups, call the Community Relations Department at 257-5649.

DIABETES

A mutual support group comprised of people with diabetes, their families and people who have had their lives affected by diabetes. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of every month from 9 to 11 a.m. in the hospital auditorium.

HOPE

Hospital Oncology Patient and Family Education was formed to assist cancer patients, former cancer patients and people who have their lives affected by cancer. The HOPE group meets the last Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. in the auditorium.

Holy Family School held a baby shower for the Pac Van. The students wanted to show the expectant mothers that they love them and care about the life they are bringing into this world. The shower was coordinated by Cathy Webb of Holy Family.

Mary Jane Hoenig, director of the Pac Van, and Mary Alsip, a volunteer, accepted the gifts on behalf of the Pac Van. Mary Ann Glosecki and Joyce Taff, Pro-Life coordinators for Holy Family Church, were also on hand.

Pac Van volunteers will sort, box and wrap the baby gifts. The gifts are presented to the new mothers after their baby is born. Many gifts were donated.

The moon in Sagittarius, now joining Pluto, distributes a broad spectrum of opportunities and chances to regain lost opportunities of the past. ARIES (March 21-April 19) A future opportunity depends on sacrifices made now. Explain to family and lovers.

Proceeds from charity events benefit you. Give notice to bosses early or you'll lose benefits. Let a partner take care of his or her own troubles.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Now is a time to make new goals. Break emotional patterns — especially with children. Concerns about the rent, lease or housing are groundless. Preserve your independence — even in love. A job shift may protect you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) Disregard the incessant chatter going on around you. Emotional healing takes place when you recognize how far you've come. Modest requests are instantly fulfilled. A romantic puzzle needs attention — don't be distracted.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) Certainly, you were right. But forget getting anyone to admit it. Just go on. Your popularity soars. You make an old flame jealous. Attend concerts and meetings. Get out of the house. A relative is manipulating you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Surprise opportunities shock you. Overlooked opportunities, treasures and loves await. Finish overdue work as this clears your mind. A simple answer satisfies a child. Don't gossip about an ex.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Tremendous opportunities come from a whimsical suggestion made by a friend. Secure facts before making accusations. Divide your time between two factions of your family. In emotional stand-offs, you win by being patient.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

Brand-new lifestyle choices put you in synch with people and things that further your goals. Show a confident facade to people for others are looking to you for leadership. Your imagination is working overtime.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Relatives bombard you with demands and obligations that only exacerbate your money woes. You are being put on the defensive. Retirement planning proves to be astutely timed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Be brutally honest with yourself. Negotiate with family members — compromises work miracles and are long-lasting. Attend seminars, lectures and anything promoting personal growth. Love grows slowly — be patient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Doors open — ask for what you want this week. A career breakthrough signals the onset of much travel and money, forcing you to make heady decisions. Don't change your course in love — wait, and relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Follow your heart for a change. Your instincts are keen. A fantasy love is obtainable. Stay close to home for good news. Listen for telephone calls. Make plans to take a vacation. Watch your temper with a neighbor.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) You have potential for making money from sports, especially golf, tennis and horse racing. Rising prices make an interim living arrangement too costly. Make permanent plans.

Comedies usually fun movies to watch

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

When I go to a movie, I want to be entertained. I guess that's why I lean to comedies.

Not all comedies are worth watching, of course, and other types of films surely can keep your attention, but I like to feel good when I come out of a theater. It's hard to be upbeat when you leave an Ingmar Bergman flick.

My top film heroes are the people who have made me laugh. Peter Sellers, particularly in his roles as Inspector Clouseau, was incredible. He could take an ordinary line and make it hilarious with his voice inflection and facial contortions. "Do you have a license for your monkey?" is a scream when Clouseau says it to an organ grinder while, a few steps away, a bank robbery takes place.

My admiration for film comedians is not only aimed at recent actors. Some of my all-time favorite movies were made in the 1930s. W.C. Fields was a genius, pure and simple. "It's A Gift" is one of my top five favorite movies of all time, and "The Bank Dick" and "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" are well worth your time. His reactions to what other people are doing are priceless. The segment of "It's A Gift" involving the name Carl LaFong is possibly the funniest 10 minutes or so ever filmed.

Also from the '30s were the great comedy flicks of the Marx Brothers. In "A Day at the Races," the scene where Groucho takes over the sanitation switchboard is absolute hilarity. "Duck Soup" and "A Night at the Opera" were also terrific Marx Brothers movies.

This week's trivia comes from comedy movies I know and love.

1. In "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," who plays the funniest character?
 2. Who plays the coach of the Chiefs hockey team in "Slap Shot"?
 3. The movie "My Favorite Year" featured who as an Errol Flynn-type character?
 4. From "Wayne's World," in which city do the boys go to an Albee Cooper concert?
 5. What is the name of the town where most of the action takes place in "Blazing Saddles"?
 6. Which current television talk show host starred in "Hair-spray"?
 7. In "The Survivors," an under-rated Robin Williams movie, who plays the hit man?
 8. In "A Christmas Story," what gift does Ralphie really, really want for Christmas?
 9. Which Woody Allen movie has him place his image in old footage, as was later done in "Forrest Gump"?
 10. Who is the female lead in "The Apartment," which also stars Jack Lemmon?
- ANSWERS: 1. Jonathan Winters. The scene where he tears which I liked a lot more than "Gump." 10. Shirley MacLaine. comedy movie with a holiday theme on film. 9. "Zelig." 8. Ricki Lake. 7. Chevy Chase. 6. Ricki Lake. 5. Rock. 4. In the 1960s and 1970s, Mel Brooks knew how to make a movie of the funniest films of all time. 3. "Rocky Horror Picture Show." 2. Paul Newman. In the best stars Jack Lemmon. The scene where he tears

GCHS errors hand East SWC victory

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

It was the quick Belleville East bats that beat the Lady Warriors on Thursday, but it was the Granite City errors that turned it into a blowout.

East scored in four of the seven innings, and pulled away at the end for a 15-2 Southwestern Conference win over Granite City Thursday at Wilson Park.

Belleville East 15, Granite City 2
EAST 204 300 6-15 9 1
101 000 6-15 9 1
BELLEVILLE EAST: Pate 1-4 2B RB-2, Bennett 2-4 RB-2, Walter 2-3 RB-2, Model 1-2 RFI, Wang 1-1, Fournie 2-3 2B, W-J-Lewis 1-4 RFI, R-2, EP-1, BB-4, SO-6.
GRANITE CITY: Monroe 1-3, Druke 1-3, Ahlers 1-2, Wright 1-3, Greathouse 1-3 2B RFI, L-P-Greathouse 1-2, 1-4, R-16, EP-1, BB-7, SO-4.

The defending Class AA state champ Lancers used six errors to pour it on the Lady Warriors, who fell to 3-12 overall and 1-6 in the conference. East is 10-1, 6-1.

"We had fly balls drop in the infield, balls hit in gloves that we can't field and balls going through our legs," said GCHS coach Deb Germann. "What's sad is everything was on the infield."

"That's not supporting our pitcher very well, but that's been a problem for us all season."

Granite City starter Christina Greathouse walked the first two batters she faced, and both of them scored.

But the Lady Warriors came back in the bottom of the first inning and got on the board themselves.

Jennifer Willis walked with two out before Greathouse helped her own cause with a line shot over the center fielder's head for an RBI double. In the third inning, Lindsay Welter smacked an RBI single to right before the real damage was done by East's Andi Phil.

Phil walked into an inside pitch by Greathouse and sent a two-run triple into the right field corner. The hit gave the Lancers a 5-1 lead.

But the Lady Warriors did anything but give up.

Jenna Wright singled in the bottom of the third, and she was eventually driven home by Amy Monroe with a single.

The poor play by Granite City came in the fourth and the seventh innings, when the Lady Warriors committed five of their six errors. East plated three runs in the fourth inning, putting the game out of reach at 9-2. But things got really ugly in the top of the seventh, when East scored six more times.

The seventh actually followed a stretch of seven hits in a row set down by Greathouse.

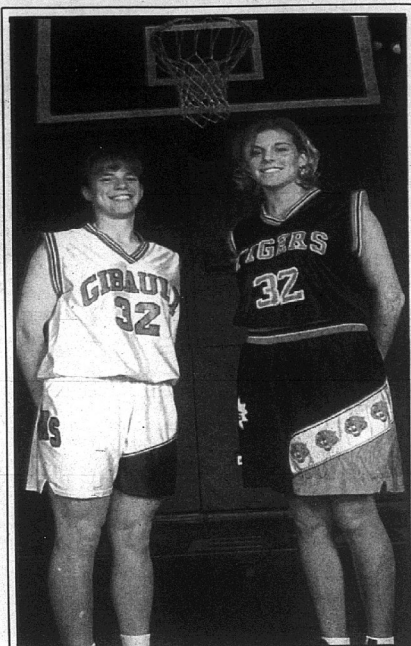

"Errors are a part of the game, but they've got to come back," Germann said.

"Christina looked tired, and she lost some mustard. It's got to be frustrating, she's making them hit the ball on the ground, and we're not making the plays."

Granite City actually seemed to regress a bit, as it had played the Lancers better last month in a game at East.

"It was 7-3, and we were in it, 2-9 in the fourth, and they

Warriors upend East 4-1

GCHS snaps 5-game skid

For the second time in two weeks, Justin Bettorf took the ball and led the Granite City Warriors to a huge Southwestern Conference win Thursday.

This time, Bettorf scattered six hits and didn't walk a man, and his teammates were finally able to score some runs as the visiting Warriors defeated Belleville East 4-1.

As a result, the Warriors—at least for now—are back in the conference race at 5-2. East also fell to 5-2, and with Collinsville's win over Alton, the Kahoks stand at 5-2 as well.

Bettorf has now beaten nearly all of the toughest teams on the Warriors' schedule. He was also the big winner for Granite City in its win over Collinsville last month. Plus, Bettorf (5-1) has wins against Mount Vernon, Waterloo and Belleville West.

The win halted the Warriors' longest losing streak of the season at five games, and also avenged an 11-1 beating the Warriors took at the hand of the Lancers nearly three weeks ago.

Unfortunately for the Warriors, they could be sitting high and dry atop the conference standings if they hadn't lost to Alton on Tuesday.

"Those are the teams you have to beat," GCHS coach Gus Lignoul said about the Alton game. "Now we're in a

Session, Flyers making run for state

By Rob Raphael

East St. Louis Lincoln senior Rodney Session is a driven athlete, and he's been inspired by many things in his life.

Session, 18, is the defending Class AA state track champion in the 110-meter high hurdles. And at this rate, he'll be the favorite to repeat.

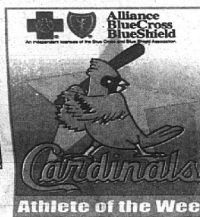

Session has not lost a 110 hurdles race this year with the Flyers, who have made trips to Chicago, Quincy, Champaign and St. Louis. He's simply the best 110-meter hurdler in the state, and possibly the entire region.

And the 5-foot-10, 160-pounder just completed a tremendous eight-day period, winning his event in the Al Joyner Relays, the St. Clair County Meet and the Session Relays. For these accomplishments, Session has been

Hawks hold off Lady Warriors

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Never will you see a team play better and still lose.

Granite City controlled perhaps 80 percent of the play Thursday night, but couldn't find a way to bend the twine, dropping a 1-0 nonconference game against visiting Hazelwood Central.

After the Lady Warriors (8-4-2) completely dominated the first half, but didn't score, one could almost smell the upset.

"We're just thrilled to get out of here still in one piece," said Central coach Dean Schulerberg. "They were like a machine out there. Gene (Baker) has really got them playing well."

Schulerberg, the Hawks' longtime girls and boys coach, served as an assistant coach to Baker at Riverview Gardens. After the end of the game, the mentor said his former student apologized for slowing down the play.

"I broke him into soccer, and I think a lot of Dean, he's a great guy," Baker said. "He Kickers earn No. 1 seed in sectional

A total of 13 girls soccer teams will be competing in the Collinsville Class AA Sectional this season, with the finals scheduled May 29 at Kahok Stadium in Collinsville.

The winner of the Collinsville Sectional will meet the winner of the Chatham Glenwood Sectional in the Granite City Super-Sectional on May 28.

The Granite City Lady Warriors received the sectional's top seed in a meeting of area coaches Wednesday night.

Although there are a couple of teams with better records than Granite City (8-4-2), the Lady Warriors play a tougher schedule and the voters took that to heart.

Granite City gets a bye in the first round of regional play, and will face the winner of the Belleville East-Carbondale game. Regional

Senior PGA tourney tickets now available through mail

The quest for tickets to the Boone Valley Classic, the Senior PGA Tour's newest tournament, will require a check, a postage stamp and a little bit of luck.

The hills and valleys of Boone Valley Golf Club in Augusta, Mo., will be the scene Sept. 28 as golf's elder statesmen will play in the $1.2 million event. It will rank as the fourth-richest tournament on the Senior PGA Tour schedule. Each ticket is actually a weekly general admission badge and good for all of the Boone Valley Classic events. In addition, the number of tickets being sold will be limited to ensure all spectators will be able to see plenty of golf action. Only 10,000 tickets will be sold, at $90 each. Tickets must be ordered by mail. Those interested must complete and return a Boone Valley Classic ticket form that can be found at Schnucks Markets and local golf courses. Full payment must accompany the form. There is no limit to the number of envelopes submitted, but requests are limited to eight per envelope.

Ticket requests will be filled based on their date of arrival, with all orders received on or before May 31 considered as first-day arrivals.

If more than 10,000 requests are received, orders will be filled by random selection. Since the event is expected to be popular, a ticket sellout is expected.

The Boone Valley Classic will host a full field of 78 Senior PGA Tour players for a three-day, 54-hole, no-cut tournament.

Unlike many sporting events that assume names of commercial interest, the Boone Valley Classic is not so named. There will be no title sponsor, hole sponsors, driving range or putting green sponsors that are typical of many events.

Instead, a group of founding sponsors are the driving force behind the Boone Valley Classic. They are Emerson Electric Co., Enterprise Rent-A-Car, Jefferson Smurfit Corp., Marlin Inc., Michelob/O'Doul's and Schnucks Markets.

For more information about the Boone Valley Classic ticket plan, call 991-2999.

apologized for slowing down the game, and I told him not to worry about it, I'd do the same thing. It's just that the officials aren't supposed to let you do that."

The slow-down methods used by Central, along with numerous foul calls by the officials, added up to a lot of wasted time. Still, the Lady Warriors had plenty of time to miss on several quality chances.

"I feel we got the better of the play. It's just the little things," Baker said. "We had two tremendous efforts on head balls that have to go in. And we hit the post (at least) twice."

GCBS outshot Central 8-2 in the first half, and 12-4 on the night. There were only two corner kicks in the game, and both belonged to the Lady Warriors.

Tiffany Lanzafame made nine saves for Central, while Granite City's Shannon Roth came up with two saves. Still, Roth had no chance on Central's goal, which came with just 2:07 gone in the second half.

After a Lady Warrior giveaway in the midfield, the Hawks took off on a long run, with Sarah Goetz making a fine play to get around a Granite City defender, and feed Becky Brown with a golden chance at the top of the box.

"The goal, I can't even account for," Baker said. "Just a flub-a-dub deal, an emotionless thing. They (Central) are a good team, but we're coming. Maybe it's our youth."

"I'll tell you, there's no doubt we were outplayed tonight, but there have been other times this year when we were outshot and maybe outplayed. But we stayed patient, and took advantage of our opportunities," Schulenberg said.

Although Baker appeared frustrated with the loss, he certainly knows his team is making strides.

"Carrie (Simpson) had her best game of the year. Tara (Tomlinson) has been playing hard. Crystal Timmons played quite well and Michelle Montgomery didn't execute on the shots but put forth quite an effort," Baker said.

"We think we have (the) makings of a good team, one that can peak at the right time. Frankly, right now, it's not very easy," Baker said.

position where we have to beat these three teams (East, West and Collinsville) if we're going to have any chance of winning the conference."

One of those goals has been accomplished, but two parts of that puzzle remain. The Warriors were scheduled to play a doubleheader at Springfield High School on Saturday, and will play host to West on Tuesday. After facing O'Fallon at home Wednesday, GCBS hosts East St. Louis on Thursday.

West may have fallen out of the race with a loss to East last week. The Maroons stand at 4-3 after their win over East St. Louis on Thursday.

"We can't afford to take these teams lightly," Lignoul said. "These are the teams we have to beat if we're going to have any chance at all."

For the first time in a while, the Warriors did their share of clutch hitting on Thursday. Bettorf gave up a single early in the second inning, and for a while it looked as if that might be all of the scoring.

But after East led the bases loaded in its half of the fifth, the Warriors finally got to East starter Nathan Hodel in the top of the sixth.

Eric Edwards led off the sixth with a solid single, and Jeff Hayden bunted safely when Hodel couldn't throw Edwards out at second. Tim Wallace bunted both runners over before Brad Ervay singled Edwards home.

Brian Lloyd then hit a two-run double, and Greg Winfield singled to score Lloyd.

Sports Hall of Fame to induct 17 members

The Granite City Sports Hall of Fame will induct 17 individuals for their accomplishments in athletics in its 10th annual banquet Saturday, May 11.

Also on Saturday, beginning at 7 a.m., the Hall of Fame will hold its annual scramble golf tournament at the Legacy Golf Course. The banquet will be held at St. Gregory's Armenian Hall, with festivities beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The guest emcee at the banquet will be Collinsville native and NFL referee Ray Sonnenberg, who has worked as an NFL umpire for seven years. Also on hand will be St. Louis Rams cheerleaders.

This year's group of inductees includes 17 individuals and two teams which have left their mark on the Granite City sports scene. They will join the group of nearly 170 who are already in the Hall of Fame.

Special recognition will also be given to three others. The new individual inductees range in age from 35 to 79. The inductees with more recent careers include:

Chris Whelan, 35, earned three varsity wrestling letters at Granite City North High School, and was a three-time district and sectional champion. Whelan also placed first in his weight class at state in 1976 and second in 1978. He was also a four-time junior national champion, and was selected as an alternate on the 1976 U.S. Olympic team. Whelan coached for eight years at the University of Missouri; and is currently a coach on the British National Wrestling Team.

Tom Hennrich, 35, is recognized for participation in high school basketball and baseball. He was a St. Louis Post-Dispatch Scholar Athlete Award winner, and was a three-letter winner in both sports. He hit 439 as a senior in baseball, and was a career .382 batsman. He went on to Illinois State University, where he was the first Redbird to amass 200 career hits. Recently, Hennrich has been involved in American Legion baseball as a coach, umpire and board member.

• Rick Fernandez, 36, was a three-year letterman in soccer at Granite City South. He was voted as the Most Valuable Player on the Warriors' Illinois state championship team of 1976. That year, he also earned All-State and All-America honors. Fernandez went on to the University of Alabama at Huntsville, earning All-America honors in 1978 and team MVP honors in 1980. In NAIA competition, Fernandez's teams finished second in the nation in 1978, third in 79 and fourth in 1980.

games are played on the high school's home field. Collinsville (6-4) received the No. 3 seed, and will also receive a first-round bye. The Lady Kahoks will play host to the winner of the Altoh-Roxana game.

The No. 2 seed went to the O'Fallon Panthers, with their sparkling 14-1 record. The Panthers lost to Granite City 2-1 earlier this season.

The No. 4 seed went to Triad. The Lady Knights have a record of 10-1, but have not faced some of the stiffer competition seen by teams in the Southwestern Conference. O'Fallon gets the final first-round bye, and will play host to the winner of the Edwardsville-Waterloo game. Triad is host to Metro East Lutheran in round one, and the winners of that match would play the winner of the Belleville East-Cahokia game.

East (7-3-3) received the fifth seed, while Edwardsville (6-5-1) is seeded seventh.

The No. 8 seed went to Carbondale (7-4-1), and Belleville West (2-8-1) is seeded ninth. Rounding out the seeds are No. 10 Waterloo (3-8-1), No. 11 Roxana (3-8-1), No. 12 Cahokia (0-9-1) and No. 13 Metro East Lutheran.

scored a few runs late in the game," Germann said.

"We're more knowledgeable, and we're learning the game, but they just didn't show me any guts today. If they don't want to do it for themselves or for me, then do it for the high school."

"Realistically, we know we're not going to play with a Belleville East or West, but like that last 4-3 game with Alto, we've got to get to the point where we're winning those games, and hopefully the rest will come along."

The Lady Warriors had the weekend off, and are scheduled to play at Belleville West on Tuesday.

Greg Linhart, 37, is most widely recognized for his athletic achievements in baseball and basketball. In 1974, Linhart was the MVP on the baseball team, earning All-Southwestern Conference honors. After high school, Linhart earned a scholarship to Illinois State and was the Redbirds' MVP in 77 and '78. Because of his versatility in the infield, he was selected by the Philadelphia Phillies and played professionally from 1978-80.

Kevin Wilson, 37, is one of the well-known names to come from the Wilson family in wrestling. Kevin excelled in football as well, but he was a three-letter winner in wrestling. He earned all-conference, All-Metro and All-State honors as a senior in 1977 at 165 pounds, becoming the only state place winner in school history at that weight. Wilson also had an outstanding career in slow-pitch softball, playing on four ASA state championship teams.

Doug Wilson, 41, also comes from the wrestling Wilson family, and is also regarded as one of Granite City's best all-time wrestlers. In 1972, he earned All-State and All-

American honors, and set a then-school record with 43 victories. He placed second at state as well that year. After his high school career, he was awarded a wrestling scholarship at Illinois State, where he was 25-4 as a freshman and captain of the team as a sophomore.

Michael Wilson, 42, excelled with his brothers in football and wrestling in high school. Mike was better known for his prowess on the football field, where he played as a quarterback, linebacker and halfback. When the football Warriors went 8-1 in 1971, he was named All-Metro Conference and All-St. Louis Area. After excelling at Eastern Illinois University, he coached at Carlyle and Olney High Schools, earning four state playoff berths. Since 1989, he has coached at Evansville (Ind.) North High School, and in 1995 the team was state runner-up, going 13-1.

Mike Garland, 42, earned high school varsity letters for wrestling in 1970 and '71. Garland was the team captain, team leader in pins and was voted to the all-conference, All-Metro East and all-area wres-ting teams. As a state qualifier, Garland defeated two Missouri champions.

He went on to earn three varsity letters at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Most recently, of course, Garland has thrived as the head wrestling coach at GCHS, where he has led the Warriors to six conference titles, five regional titles, five dual-team regionals and three dual-team sectionals. In his nine years, Garland has coached 38 state qualifiers, nine state place winners, four state finalists and two state champions. Under Garland, the Warriors have a record of 196-34-1, including 116-1 over the last five years.

The Granite City Sports Hall of Fame is also scheduled to be open to the public for several hours Sunday, May 12. For more information on the tournament or the Hall of Fame, contact chairman Les Thompson at 876-7636.

•Session

named the Journals' Cardinal Club Athlete of the Week.

Session is part of an East Side team which is expected to contend for a state title later this month at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. And that's one of the things that inspires him — his teammates. "When I was a sophomore, we had a disappointing state meet and finished third," he said. "But I know we could have done better. We've got a great team this year, and we've put aside all of the individual goals."

"We've made the promise this year, to ourselves, that we're going to bring it all home. At the rate we're going, I don't think anybody can stop us. As long as we listen to the coach (John Davis) and stay together, I think we can do it." Session added the team members watch over each other and pick each other up.

"It can be hard to be a role model, because you have to show others the right thing to do," he said. "If I mess up, my teammates are right there to tell me about it."

Besides the 110 hurdles, Session also competes in the 300 intermediate hurdles, which he has also won several times this year. Session is also a part of the Flyers' 4x100 and 4x400 relay teams.

Both of those relay teams have been coming on all season, and it looks as if Session could have a handful of medals by the time the state meet is completed. "I couldn't do it without my teammates," he said. "They are my inspiration."

Also of importance to Session is his faith in God. "I thank God for giving me the gift of being able to compete in track and field," he said. "I've also been blessed to meet a lot of good people in track. As long as I work hard, and do what the coach tells me, with the help of God I can reach my potential."

But there's a third influence on Session, which possibly drives him more than anything else.

"I always think about my sister Christy, who's deceased," he said. "I do everything for her. I know she's always there, watching me, and (May 2) would have been her birthday. I wear her name on my headband all the time, and I know when I win the state meet she'll be satisfied."

Session is the son of Evelyn Session, and he said it's been her help that has made it possible for him to go to college. A legitimate Division I talent, Session will likely begin his college career at the junior college level.

"I plan to study architecture, and maybe minor in communications," he said. "When I was a sophomore, my grades weren't too good. They've improved since then, and they still need to improve more. Going to junior college will give me that chance, and hopefully I'll still get the shot at Division I."

Each week one prep varsity athlete will be selected by the Journal sports staff as the Illinois Journals' Cardinal Club Athlete of the Week. Selected athletes will be featured in newspapers throughout the Journals' coverage area.

HOW TO...

PLACE AN AD

There are four easy ways to place your ad. BRING IT: 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City, IL 62040. PHONE IT: Call 877-7700 or dial 876-2000. Phone lines are open from 8 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. FAX IT: Send your ads directly to our Classified Fax Center at 618-976-4240. We'll call you back for confirmation. MAIL IT: Send your ads to: Classified, Granite City Press Record Journal, 1815 Delmar, Granite City, IL 62040.

PAY FOR AN AD

You will be billed immediately following last run day. You may pay in person, through the mail, or over the phone or fax. We accept cash, checks and credit cards (MC/Visa). Discover. When paying over the phone, please have your credit card ready. When faxing your ad, just include your credit card number. We'll call you back for confirmation. Please do not send cash through the mail. Some ads require prepayment.

WRITE AN AD

Capture the reader's attention with larger headlines, bold type, and symbols. Tell them up front what you're selling or seeking. Describe what is unique about your item, address, details such as color and condition. Avoid abbreviations; they make your ad harder to read and therefore less effective. Include your phone number and the hours you are available. Always include the price; it will increase your responses.

CANCEL AN AD

Deadlines for ad cancellation are identical to deadlines for ad placement. You may cancel an ad in person or over the phone. To cancel an ad, phone 877-7700.
